of the late Dr. H. H. SHERWOOD, manufactured under another name, and represented to be made in the same manner as the genuine articles. The Remedies of Doctor SHERWOOD can be rightly prepared only by ourselves, from the receipt which we hold from his sole Executrix, (bequeathed to her exclusively by his recorded will), and all representations to the contrary are wholly false.

BLAKE'S PATENT FIRE-PROOF PAINT, OR ARTIFICIAL SLATE.

This most singular and valuable Pigment I discovered in a stratum of rock in Sharon, near Akron, Ohio, in the Spring of '44, but subsequently learned that it had been known for years, and not deemed of the least value. But from its firmness and uniformity of texture, I was led to believe it might be turned to something useful for the benefit of man, but for what particular use I had not the most distant idea. I commenced and continued my experiments, devoting my entire time, for two years, before ascertaining its great value. I then found by reducing the Pigment to a fine powder, and mixing it with Linseed Oil, to the consistency of thick paint, and applying this compound with a brush to either wood, bricks, tin, iron, or thick paper, in a few months the action of the atmosphere would turn this coating to a perfect Slate, protecting the substance covered from the action of the ATMOSPHERE and from FIRE. This discovery I considered of the greatest importance, as I believed I had discovered a desideratum that had for years been sought in vain. I applied and obtained from the government, on the 28th March, '48, a patent. The State Fair at Buffalo awarded me a Diploma, and the Fair of the American Institute a Medal, and the Examining Committee (of whom Dr. J. R. Chilton was chairman (and had some three years previous analyzed it), reported that it was an article superior to any thing that had ever been presented at the Fair as a Weather and Fire-proof Covering.

I have two original colors (black and chocolate), and by the addition of a small amount of coloring matter they can be easily changed to suit the taste.

Look out for Fraud.

As scores of individuals are digging and sending to a distance all kinds of worthless counterfeit stuff, most of it no better than dirt from the streets, calling it all good Fire-proof Paint. Now, I will only say to the public, that if they get the Powder except from me or my Agents, that will make the genuine Artificial Slate, they infringe upon my patent, for which I shall hold them to a strict accountability; and if it does not make the Slate, of course it will rub off as soon as the action of the atmosphere destroys the oil, in which case they lose the money paid for the spurious article.

The genuine article can at all times be had at No. 3 BROAD STREET, N. Y., of the Patentee.

WM. BLAKE, Patentee Fire-proof Paint.

AROMATIC BITTERS AND TONIC INVIGORATOR.

Testimonials and affidavits of the superior and extraordinary efficacy of these Bitters in the cure of Liver Complaints, attended with tuberculous disarrangement, Intermittent and Remittent Fevers, enlargement of the Liver and Spleen, Jaundice, Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, and all the various forms of a Sallow Complexion, Capricious Appetite, and occasional pain in the side, are, perhaps, the only symptoms of impending danger. The operation of these Bitters is to counteract this baneful influence, by producing activity of the Biliary Organs, and a healthy natural discharge from the system.

It is entirely a Vegetable Preparation, and may be taken by any one with perfect safety to the most delicate constitution. What is disease? What is unhealthy virus?

Why is it that persons who labour under difficulties, the pains and anguish of sickness, employ doctor after doctor, and take all advertised quack nostrums, are not relieved? Simply because they do not use the right means; they do not find ways to create an action in the Bile, which is the general cause of sickness or health.

The operation of these Bitters is upon the Liver, promoting the discharge of the Bile. The thousands who have used it need no further evidence of its value than its happy restorative effects.

Those to whom it is a new remedy, and who are unacquainted with its merits, will please consult the Proprietor at his Office, 118 Division Street, where will be seen certificates from those who have used the Medicine themselves or in their Families, and who have recommended it to the Public.

Emigrants to California or other places, by supplying themselves with this article, and using the same according to the directions accompanying each bottle, will enjoy the most entire protection from the evils of a change of climate, such is its healthy influence upon the Liver, and through this organ upon the whole system.

DIRECTIONS.

The average dose for an adult is a large table spoonful three times a day. If the person should be very bilious, a wine glass full before going to bed; for a Child a tea spoonful twice a day.

"BLAKE'S AROMATIC BITTERS" is stamped on every bottle, and the Proprietor's name signed on the wrapper.

KUMBEL'S PATENT LEATHER BANDS,
FOR MACHINERY

MANUFACTORY AT 33 FERRY-STREET,
NEW YORK.

Awarded a Medal at the late Fair of the American Institute,

FOR THE VERY SUPERIOR PRINCIPLE ON WHICH THEY ARE STRETCHED, AND FOR BEING THE BEST STRETCHED, AND THE ONLY PATENT MACHINE-STRETCHED IN THE COUNTRY.

The subscriber would invite the attention of Manufacturers, Machinists, Proprietors of Steamboats, Railroads, Sawmills, and all others using the article of Leather Banding, to his Patented Bands, which have now been before the public a sufficient time to have their utility fairly tested; and he is furnished with numerous Approbatory Testimonials in their behalf.

These Bands are constructed on principles which have not been heretofore developed. They are made from the best of Oak Leather, and cut from the heart or solid part of the Hide or side only; are thoroughly stretched on powerful machinery, and are cemented and riveted together; they are warranted to run straight, and have a perfect bearing on the Pulleys. These qualities combined constitute the essential requisites of good Bands, and compose their intrinsic merit over all others. They can be furnished of any length and width, from one to twenty-four inches wide.

The subscriber feels confident in asserting that one of his Bands is equal in durability to six made in the ordinary manner, and that they will afford perfect satisfaction during the whole time of their use.

He is also happy to state that he has the recently Patented Concave Head and Oval Shank Rivets, which present less metal to the Pulleys than any other, thereby effectually correcting the well-known difficulty of Belts slipping.

A constant supply of Lace and Pickers Leather, of the most approved qualities; together with a general assortment of SOLE and UPPER LEATHER, WAX CALFSKINS, HARNESS, BRIDLE, SKIRTING, &c. &c.

The subscriber has the pleasure of being the first individual who made Machine Leather Banding by Machinery.

PURIFICATION OF WATER!

AWARDED TWO GOLD MEDALS, AS

"THE BEST CROTON FILTER."

The merits of this popular Invention consist in the simplicity and permanency of its construction, and in the wholesomeness of the materials of which it is composed. It is fitted for application to any Water-cock or Barrel-tap used for the discharge of fluids, and is constructed for application to a vessel of the capacity of a keg or pail, as well as to a City Hydrant. It cleanses itself by changing its end for end, will filter from one to five gallons per minute, and is of a durability to last for several years.

The Filtering Medium is crushed Quartz Rock, compressed, and all the internal surface of the metallic part is pure Tin or Britannia.

THE DIAPHRAGM FILTER has been tested by many thousands of the New-York public during the past three years; its merits and superiority are endorsed by the principal Medical and Scientific Gentlemen in New York, Philadelphia and Boston; and a certificate has lately been obtained from the Plumbers of this city, with regard to the Diaphragm Filter's entire efficiency, and especially with regard to the purity of its material, and non-liability to produce verdigris.

Sun eclipsed August 7th, visible in the United States only in the south-western part, and the western territories.

In the year 1623, "the Dutch obtained leave of the natives to build a better fort on Manhattan Island. After the fort was built, persons who came over from Holland to settle in America, or to spend some time in the fur trade, and who could not reside in the fort, built houses near the walls of the same, and formed the first street ever made in the city, now called Pearl Street."

During the year 1637, "the whole of Paulus Hook (Jersey City) was sold by William Kieft to Abram Isaac Planck, for £75; and a part of it was leased for a tobacco plantation. And in 1641, Governor Kieft leased, for five years, to Thomas Hall, a plantation with the negroes thereon, on the Island of Manhattan, not far from Tapopanikan, for 750 pounds of good inspected tobacco; by which, it appears, it was formerly cultivated to a considerable extent on this island."

In 1656, "the city had 120 houses, and 1,000 inhabitants, including the garrison." In the following year, "the whole of Staten Island was sold to the Dutch by the Indians for 10 shirts, 30 pair stockings, 10 guns, 30 bars lead, 30lbs. powder, 12 coats, 2 pieces of duffill, 30 kettles, 50 hatchets, 25 hoes, and a number of knives and awls." But in 1670, the Indians, under pretence that the bargain "had never been completed, demanded and received 400 fathoms more of wampum, and a considerable number of guns, axes, and other articles, and on the first of May formally delivered up the island."

In 1702, a "Grammar school was established, and a master sent for to the Bishop of London, 'as there is not any person within this city (with whose conveniency it would be agreeable) proper and duly qualified to take upon himself the office of schoolmaster of the said city, that the Bishop of London be recommended to send over hither a person of good learning, of pious life, and virtuous conversation, of English extract, and of good and mild temper, &c., and a part of the king's farm to be given for his support.'"

We learn that in 1785, "A donation of £40 made to the Corporation, for the use of the poor, by the company of Comedians, was by the Common Council 'ordered to be returned, with a note of disapprobation at the establishment of a Play House without having been licensed, as unprecedented and offensive; and while so great a part of the city was still lying in ruins, and the citizens still suffering under distress, there is a loud call to industry and economy, and it would be unjustifiable in them to countenance expensive and enticing amusements.'"

After the election of Washington as President, in 1789, "The City Hall was repaired and enlarged, for the use of the Congress, at a great expense to the city, who borrowed the money from the bank, and some private contributions were raised. The whole was expended under the superintendence of Major L'Enfant, who received the thanks of the Corporation, the freedom of the city, and was offered a lot of ten acres of the public land, near Provost's lane or street, but politely declined the same."

In the early part of this month (about the 4th) Hendrick Hudson arrived at Manhattan Island, which is thus described: "On the point of land where New-York is now built, they found living a very hostile people, who would not deal or trade with them: but those who lived on the western shore, from the Kilns upward, came daily on board the vessel while she lay at anchor in the river, bringing with them, to barter, furs and skins of different kinds, and the largest and finest oysters they had ever beheld; also Indian corn, beans, pumpkins, squashes, grapes, and some apples, all which they exchanged for trifles."

The following brief sketch is taken from an account of the celebrated negro plot in 1741, when one-sixth of the population were slaves: "One hundred and fifty-four negroes, and twenty white persons, were committed to prison, of which fifty-five were convicted, and seventy-eight confessed. Thirteen negroes were burnt at the stake, at a place then out of town, but situated near the present intersection of Pearl and Chatham streets, where there formerly was a hollow place. Twenty were hung, seventy were transported to foreign parts, and fifty were discharged."

In 1762, "Methodism was first introduced into New-York. Some persons, members of Wesley's Society, from England and Ireland, settled in various places; and some few years after, two local preachers began to preach in New-York and one in Maryland, and made some converts. About this time, a Mr. Webb, lieutenant in the army, preached at New-York and Philadelphia with great success; and with the assistance of friends, erected a chapel in New-York, the first in America."

In Oct. of 1765, "Great excitement existed in the city, and a civil war feared. The Corporation induced the Governor and Commander-in-chief to deposit the stamped paper, which was the cause of the offence, in the City Hall for safe keeping. The Stamp act was burnt, a non-importation agreement made by the citizens, and the spirit of whig and tory ran high. A great mob on the 1st of November: the Governor and the devil, holding the Stamp act, were burnt in effigy, after being paraded through the streets."

A BIRD'S-EYE VIEW OF THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

FOR THE USE OF
TRAVELLERS AND STRANGERS.

Illustrated with Views of several Religious and other Edifices.

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1849, by H. WILSON, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New-York.

PRESUMING, my dear sir, or madam, that you are comfortably fixed at one of the magnificent hotels with which Broadway and its dependencies are embellished,—that you have issued unscathed from all the dangers of cabmen, porters, and omnibus-drivers that make the passage from steamboat to hotel not much less difficult or perilous than the path to fame,—we proceed to put you au courant as to what is going on in the great metropolis in the way of things worth seeing or hearing; and perhaps shall give you a hint or two as to the most eligible manner of getting about town with the greatest comfort and least expense. We of course take it for granted that you are above the vulgar dangers of stuffed watches and exorbitant cab-hire; know how to select the right omnibus by reading its destination on the side, instead of stopping to have a palaver in the street with the driver; and that, in short, you are altogether a sensible and comfortable traveller.

We will, therefore, now descend to the street; and as it still lacks a couple of hours to sunset, we shall have plenty of time to take the principal bearings of the city, and you can return home in the proud consciousness of being a “knowing one,” and not to be sold for any reasonable price. If, however, there should still remain the slightest suspicion of uncertainty as to your knowledge of the city's ways, just put this little book under your pillow, and you will dream your way through every street and alley as infallibly as a policeman.

You noticed, probably, the beautiful green promenade near where you landed, and whose broad and pleasant walks temptingly invited you to take a stroll? That is the Battery, of which you have doubtless heard and read a great deal. It contains about twelve acres, substantially inclosed in an iron-railing, though not sufficiently to keep out the loafers, and bad characters generally, who have of late years almost monopolized this beautiful promenade, and driven away all the pretty ladies, with their fairy-like children, who used to make its broad walks and tender grass-plats seem like gardens of the houris, in the pleasant summer afternoons. You cannot find in the world so delicious a sea-promenade as the long walk in front of the Battery to the left of Castle Garden; but if you are a lady, you cannot go there alone without the risk of annoyance. This is a fact disgraceful to the authorities, but it is nevertheless true.

Castle Garden is a round building erected on a mole right out in the sea, and connected with the Battery by a peninsula of plank. It looks at a distance very much like a red earthen milk-pan turned upside down, and used to be strongly armed and fortified. The United States, however, having got large enough to take care of itself without wearing fire-arms, the old Castle was dismantled, and ceded to the Corporation. You can now get very good ice-cream, dancing and musical entertainments there during the summer; while in the fall, its immense area, and all the passages leading to it, become filled with miraculous squashes and unparallelled counterpanes, the self-acting washing-machines, and perennial hair-dyes, constituting the show of the American Institute.

A little distance up Broadway from the Battery, leaving the Bowling-Green on our right, we come to Trinity Church—a costly and very beautiful structure of the "perpendicular Gothic" order of architecture; although the body of the church is so small, in proportion to the spire, that the whole has been maliciously designated as an elaborate clock-case. If you have the slightest disposition in the world to know all about the "clerestory," "the transom mullions," the "buttresses," "piers," "battlements," "crocketed pinnacles terminating in a finial," and other architecturalities, throw us out of the window: for we frankly confess to you that we don't know a buttress from a buttery, nor a pinnacle from a pin-cushion.

The Custom House is only one block down Wall street, which enters Broadway exactly opposite Trinity Church. Every broker in the street can see the golden-handed clock, (thus furnished in compliment to the locality,) and the gilt cross, every time he emerges from his den. The first is to remind him that it is time to go on "'Change"—the other points steadily to heaven; but unfortunately it is placed so high that nobody ever musters up courage to look at it.

The Custom House is a very large white marble building, with an interminable flight of steps. It is said to be built after the Athenian Parthenon—and we think we might say about twelve hundred and seventy-five years. In few other respects can it be said to have followed very strictly the magnificent temple of the virgin goddess. It is, however, a very fine, substantial edifice, admirably adapted to its purposes, and completely incombustible; there being nothing more inflammable than warm water within the walls, even for purposes of heating in the winter. Its cost, with the lot on which it stands, running up from Wall street to Pine, $1,750,000; the cost of the building alone being $950,000.

The Merchants' Exchange.—This is a large gray granite building, with an imposing colonnade front on Wall street of Ionic columns, opening into one of the loftiest and grandest rotundas in the world. The Rotunda—the "'Change," of which one hears so much—is wainscoted with Italian marble; and eight superb Corinthian columns of the same exquisite material, forty-one feet high, support the panelled dome and sky-light. The whole building is as incombustible as the Custom House, and cost some fifty thousand dollars more than that.

We will now return to Broadway, and keep on up to the Park, which brings us to our starting point. The Park, with its fountain, its rows of loafers reclining on the benches, its lawyers hurrying through the walks with green bag on arm, you can see for yourself. Yonder graceful building—by far the handsomest specimen of architecture on the Island—is the City Hall, in which are all the Courts, the Common Council, and Governor's rooms, the County offices, &c. &c. It is built of white marble, somewhat in the Lombardo-Venetian style of architecture; and, viewed in front, is really an elegant and imposing structure. It is surmounted by a well-proportioned dome, containing the great central fire-alarm bell, and an invaluable clock, which sometimes indicates four different times of day at the same moment to the denizens of the four quarters of the city.

The Hall of Records—a pure Ionic building, ornamented with a multitude of gilt and black tin signs, is situated a few steps east of the City Hall, and is exactly what its title indicates. In the rear, running from Centre street to Broadway, is the New City Hall, formerly the Alms House. It contains a variety of offices and courts requisite, but not very interesting. The Court of Oyer and Terminer—our highest State criminal court—is in the middle apartments of this building. The Commissioners of Emigration and of the Alms House, and various other public institutions, are in these buildings.

The Tombs, or Halls of Justice, occupy an entire block between Centre and Elm, Leonard and Franklin streets. It is one of the few genuine specimens of architecture in the city, as it is what it pretends to be—strictly Egyptian. It contains the Court of Sessions, Police Courts, Coroner's Office, Grand Jury Room, and 143 cells for prisoners committed for trial, or having been convicted and awaiting transportation to the final place of punishment.

Free Academy of the City of New York, Lexington Avenue, near Twenty-third street.—(Take a Third Avenue stage, if you wish to inspect it in person.) The dimensions of the building, (of which a view is given on the next page,) are 125 feet by 80. It consists, exclusive of the basement and great hall, of three spacious stories, which are intersected by two wide passages, running at right angles through the middle of the building. It is believed that it will afford accommodation for a thousand scholars, with the necessary appliances and conveniences.

It was erected under the superintendence of James Renwick, jr., Architect. It is in the style of the Gothic town-halls of the Netherlands. The style was selected for its appropriateness and convenience; by which utility is combined with appearance, convenient means of ventilation and heating are obtained, buttresses being converted into flues, and towers into chimnies. This elegant hall, so well adapted to the purposes of the institution, may be said to have been procured without cost. There is no waste room—the building is brought into use up to the very roof-peak, and the structure for the support of the roof is so arranged that the weight rests mainly upon the interior walls, and there is no lateral thrust upon the outer walls. This has allowed the construction of well-tied, hollow, light, exterior walls, at a saving in cost sufficient to pay for all the ornament, which the adoption of the Gothic style of architecture has required. An ornamental building has thus been obtained, perhaps at less cost than a plain edifice, of proper architectural proportions, arrangement, and solidity, could have been erected for.

The entire cost of erection, in which are embraced all expenses of printing and advertising, plans and superintendence; and including several large items of expenditure, for foundation and sewers, not contemplated when the contracts were made; also, the stuccoing of the exterior, and painting and sanding of the battlements and pinnacles, have been safely within the sum of $50,000, the amount authorized by law. The Legislature wisely limited the cost of erecting the building, in view of the extravagance which is usually practised in this particular.

This eligible site, of the dimensions of 122½ feet on Lexington Avenue, by 200 feet on Twenty-third street, was purchased at a cost of $20,000. The amount appropriated thus far, for fitting up and furniture, is $10,000.

The advantages of this institution, as its name imports, are free to all. It presents, to rich and poor alike, an open and an even field. Intellect, industry, and good conduct, are to win the prizes on this course. Merit is to be the test of admission, and hereafter, when the number to be admitted at each examination shall be limited in advance, it will be necessary to exercise the nicest discrimination. The examinations are to be conducted so that there may be no ground for the suspicion of favoritism. Each candidate receives from the Principal a number, which is his only designation, until the examination is completed. The Professors who conduct the examination are not to know the parentage, the school, or even the names of the candidates, until the whole result is declared.

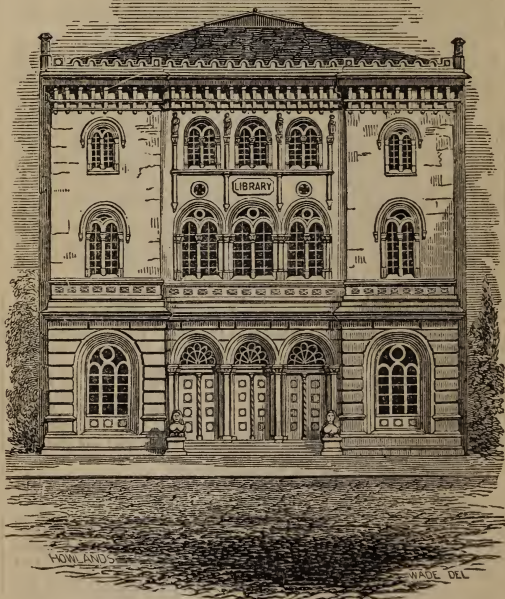

The whole system of instruction that will be embraced in the plan of the Free Academy is not definitely arranged. Being established as a part of the system of public education, the Free Academy is, necessarily, united with the Common Schools. The Act gives the Board of Education power to establish a Free Academy "for the purpose of extending the benefits of education gratuitously to those who have been pupils in the Common Schools of the City and County of New York." The qualification for admission into the former is, a thorough knowledge of the branches taught in the latter. The education is continued onward, branching, as it proceeds, towards the various divisions of the field of knowledge, as the purpose of the pupils may lead them.

For list of Ward and Public Schools, see page .

Library of the New-York Historical Society.—Rooms in the University Building, on Washington Square. This institution possesses one of the first libraries in the country in the department of American History. It contains 15,000 printed books and pamphlets, 1400 volumes of newspapers, 2000 maps and charts, and 15,000 manuscripts, letters, and other documents, illustrating Colonial and Revolutionary History. Its gallery comprises Portraits of many distinguished men, a cabinet of historical and other curiosities, and a valuable collection of coins and medals.

Hours, October 1st to April 1st, 10 to 2, and 7 to 9, P. M.; April 1st to October 1st, 9 to 1, and 4 to 6, P. M. George H. Moore, Librarian.

Extract from the Library Regulations:—"During the regular hours, any members of the Society may have free access to consult any book or manuscript, except such as may be designated by the Executive Committee, and to make extracts from the same under the authority of the Librarian. Any person not a member, may obtain the like privilege of consultation from the President or Librarian, if known to them, or upon the recommendation of some other member, to whom the applicant is known."

The Astor (free) Library.

This noble institution, for which the citizens are indebted to the munificence of the late John Jacob Astor, will be located on Lafayette Place.

The boy at school has a new world opened to him in the school library, the lover of learning in Albany may read in the Legislative Library all day ; or, if in Philadelphia, the bequest of Franklin and Mackenzie is at his service ; but, in New-York, there was a void, which Mr. Astor was advised to fill up. Four hundred thousand dollars were devised by him to this philanthropic object ; the site which it is to occupy, forming part of the bequest, valued at $30,000, upon which a building, restricted by the will, in cost to $75,000, is to be erected, after a design from which the opposite view is reduced. Of the balance, $120,000 are to be expended in the purchase of books, maps, statuary, &c., and the remainder to be placed at interest to defray the expenses of management, for the purchase of books, or establishment of lectures, as the Trustees may think best.

The building will be built of brown cut stone, in the Florence Palace style of architecture, 65 feet front by 120 deep; and its height, from the level of the side-walk to the top line of the parapet, will be  $67\frac{1}{2}$  feet, of three stories, including the basement: and is to be so constructed as to shut out all danger of damage by fire.

The basement will be used for keeper's rooms, cellars, &c., and will contain four large hot-air furnaces for warming the building.

The entrance is through a vestibule directly to a well-designed staircase, leading to the library-hall. To the right and left of the vestibule are the reading-rooms; and on each side of the stairway are two corridors, leading to the lecture-room, (sufficiently large to seat 500 persons,) in the rear of the building.

The library-hall will be 60 feet by 100 in the clear, and about 40 feet in height, lighted from the roof; the height of the hall midway between the floor and ceiling is divided by a gallery, about 15 feet in width, supported by 14 brick piers. The whole height of the wall is to be provided with shelving, affording room for 100,000 volumes; to render the upper portions of which accessible, two other, and smaller galleries, are extended around the hall, above and below the main gallery. In fact, the whole interior is admirably designed for convenience and economy of space; and if the designs of the architect (Mr. A. Saeltzer) are fully carried out, the whole building will reflect great credit upon him, and, although not profusely ornamented, will present a noble appearance, and form a new ornament to our city.

About 20,000 volumes have already been purchased in Europe by Mr. Cogswell; and, although not yet prepared to be thrown open to the public, it is to be hoped that such arrangements as are necessary for this purpose will shortly be perfected, so that no great length of time will elapse before its benefits will be extended to those for whom they were intended.

The Trustees are the Mayor of the city, and Chancellor of the State, (ex officio;) and Washington Irving, Wm. B. Astor, Daniel Lord, jr., James G. King, Jos. G. Cogswell, Fitz-Green Halleck, Henry Brevoort, jr., Samuel B. Ruggles, Samuel Ward, jr., and Charles Bristed, who are to appoint their successors. The Trustees are to have no pay, nor is any one of them to hold any office of emolument under the board.

The Apprentice's Library, at 32 Crosby street, contains 12,000 volumes read by 1800 apprentices, and offers facilities for the cultivation of the mind, which prove exceedingly useful to young mechanics.

Mercantile Library, Beekman street, cor. Nassau.—I. H. Bailey, President; H. A. Oakley and E. T. Tournier, Secretaries; Theodore Stout, Treasurer; S. H. Grant, Librarian. This Association was formed for the special benefit of merchants' clerks, and is one of the most useful institutions of its kind in the city. It has a library of 20,000 volumes; also a beautiful reading-room, open on week days, well warmed and lighted, and much frequented.

The Society Library.

About a mile from the Battery, the stranger will be struck with the chaste and imposing edifice of the Society Library. It is built of brown free-stone, and, with the land on which it is erected, cost $120,000. "The Public Library" of New-York was founded A. D. 1700, and the New-York Society Library was ingrafted on it in 1754. During the Revolution, the Library, then in the Old City Hall, was scattered, and nearly destroyed. Being revived in 1789, a building was erected for it in Nassau-street, near the present Post Office, where it remained until 1836. The volumes number about 40,000, in all languages, and on all subjects: some have lately been added of great value. Terms of access, $25 for a transferable right, liable to an annual tax of $6; or temporary subscription, at $10 per annum. Members and subscribers have the privilege of introducing strangers.

The Baptist Tabernacle Church

The site selected for this new edifice is perhaps the most desirable of any remaining to be improved in the central portion of the upper part of the city, being on the easterly side of the Second Avenue, between Tenth and Eleventh streets, opposite Stuyvesant street, which here forms a junction with the Avenue in an oblique direction. Communicating as this street does with Astor Place, and both being intersected by the principal thoroughfares of the city, the distant aspect of the new building, from these prominent points, will be peculiarly imposing. The building will not, indeed, as may be seen from the view, present a combination of lofty tower and spire, with their attendant pinnacles; but it will nevertheless be characterized by the more sedate and pleasing features of the Gothic style of architecture, so long and universally admired in the mediæval chapels of European countries—simple in form and outline, yet frequently much elaborated; and, though no longer shrines of worship, certainly still so to art.

In point of dimensions the house has been frequently exceeded, the whole width over walls being 64 feet, and 92 deep; but a remarkable breadth and base has been given to the elevation by throwing out side area doors, and springing an arch or flying buttress into the main wall, extending the width to 84 feet, and inclosing the entire ground.

The basement, besides the indispensable accommodations to the purposes of the church, contains a lecture-room, which would seat conveniently 360 persons.

The main floor of the church, after deducting for the baptistry, and the accompanying arrangements, which are perfect, so far as the conveniences required for the performance of the ordinance and the pulpit are concerned, will seat comfortably nearly 800 persons; the galleries, which are confined to the sides, nearly 300 more. Accommodations have been made for the organ and choir at the head of the church, instead of at the backs of the audience as is usual.

Interiorly in front and in rear there are three lofty arches, the centre one 45 feet high; those on each side having their spring determined by the raking line of the ceiling, which falls at an angle of about 30 degrees, and will be finished in imitation of ancient panel work.

The Norfolk-street Baptist Chapel.—This edifice is located in Norfolk-street, between Grand and Broome, and is yet in process of erection. It is of the Gothic order throughout, and is a beautiful specimen of that ancient style: its dimensions are 57 by 80 feet. The front is the only part of the exterior which is distinctly seen. It is built of Jersey free-stone, and is inclosed with a substantial iron-railing. At each corner of the front is presented a symmetrically square tower, 70 feet high, and crowned with battlements: each tower is furnished with a door of entrance to the galleries, and is lighted with a richly stained glass window. Between the towers is the main entrance by an imposing doorway, 12 feet wide by about 30 feet high. Above this is a circular stained glass window, for lighting the ceiling; and running above that, to the apex of the roof, is an antique finial, 25 feet in height, making a novel, but neat finish.

The interior of the building presents, if possible, a more inviting appearance than the exterior. On the first floor is a lecture-room, between 50 and 60 feet square, and separated from a set of tiring rooms by large folding-doors. The spaciousness, convenient seating, and free circulation of light and air, render this one of the most pleasant lecture-rooms in the city. The auditory, or second floor, is a spacious room, capable of seating 1000 persons. The ceiling is divided into three spans, and is supported by eight heavy pillars, (with richly ornamented caps,) which form over the side galleries five arches. The distance from the floor to the highest point in the nave is 52 feet. The groined ceiling, and walls, are elaborately ornamented with rib-mouldings, bosses, corbels, labels, columns, &c.: and the whole is laid off in courses, and colored in imitation of stone. The pulpit stands in a niche of six angles, is a beautiful piece of furniture, and is supplied with a baptistry, connected with the tiring-rooms below by staircases. The pews are in keeping with the rest of the house, but are without doors, and are carpeted and cushioned—the latter being of crimson damask.

Church of the Puritans.

(Congregational.)

This beautiful edifice is situated on the southwest corner of Union Square and Fifteenth street, and was constructed from the plans, and under the superintendence, of J. Renwick, Jr., Esq. The building is of white marble, from the quarries on the banks of the Hudson River. The dimensions are as follows:—Extreme length, 142 feet; breadth, 75 feet. The style of architecture is the later Romanesque—a style which preceded the Gothic. The front is flanked by two towers of unequal heights—one 104, and the other 84 feet. The original design contemplated carrying both towers to the same height, 104 feet, and the construction of a spire 100 feet in height on the northeast corner tower. The interior of the church is 110 feet in length, and is divided into three aisles, with richly groined ceilings—the centre aisle 36 feet wide by 50 feet in height, with a clerestory; and two side aisles, 16 feet wide by 35 feet in height. The windows are filled with enamelled glass, with stained glass borders. Behind the church is a lecture-room, 27 feet wide and 70 feet long, with a front on Fifteenth-street flanked with two small towers. Over the lecture-room are two school-rooms, which communicate with the galleries of the church, making the interior arrangement probably more complete and convenient than that of any church at present erected in the city. The total cost of the building was $50,000. The number of sittings is 1250.

The South Dutch Church
(Dutch Reformed.)

This chaste and elegant building is situated on the southwest corner of the Fifth Avenue and Twenty-first street, and was built by the congregation of the old South Dutch Church, in Garden street, now Exchange Place; and is therefore an instance of the remarkable growth of the city of New-York—the old building having been nearly half a mile south, and the new one being exactly two miles north of the City Hall. The church is in the rayonnant, or middle-age Gothic style, which is considered as the most perfect form of that architecture. The church is cruciform, 120 feet in length, 65 feet in breadth across the body of the church, and 90 feet across the transepts. The lecture-room in the rear is 24 feet wide, and 65 feet long, making the total length of the church and chapel 144 feet. The front of the church is constructed of buff-colored freestone, from the quarries of Mr. Thom, the sculptor. The sides and rear are of brick, painted and sanded to the same color as the front. The front of the church is divided into three parts, having a high pointed gable to the central aisle, and two lower gables to the side aisles. The tower is on the corner of the Avenue and street, and, with the spire, (not yet erected,) will be 180 feet in height. The traceries of the four great windows at the end of the church and transepts, are remarkable for their beauty. The interior is divided into three aisles by rich columns. The roof is of oak, with heavily carved ribs and traceries. The interior woodwork of the pews and other furniture is black walnut. The organ screen is of oak. The stained glass in the principal rear window and transept windows is of rich and varied design. The lower part of the principal window in the rear is filled with a stained glass trellis-work of two colors, with a grape vine, beautifully painted, running through the trellis. Above the vine, in the tracery of the head, are rays diverging from a central light; and below it two sheaves of wheat.

The transept windows have rich heads of stained glass, and below a pannelled work of stained and enamelled glass. The effect of color on the interior of the church is very harmonious.

The lecture-room in the rear is constructed to correspond both in exterior and interior finish with the church, to which it forms a beautiful and appropriate addition.

The church cost about $40,000, with the furniture and organ. J. Renwick, Jr., Architect.

The Middle Dutch Church, in Liberty-street, corner of Nassau, now occupied as the Post Office, has stood for one hundred and twenty years, and eight or nine successive generations (counting those who were aged at the time of its opening) have worshipped within its walls. On Sabbath evening, 11th August, 1844, the closing exercises were held in the church, in the view of resigning it for other uses. In connection with the usual devotional exercises, a sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. Knox, the senior pastor, from John iv. 20-24, and an address delivered by the Rev. Dr. De Witt, one of the pastors. During the Revolutionary war, in 1776, when the British took possession of the city, several of the churches were occupied and greatly injured by the British soldiery; but the Middle Dutch Church suffered the most. Being directly adjacent to the famous sugar-house, the scene of atrocious and multiplied cruelties inflicted upon American citizens, it was at once used by the British soldiery for their quarters, for a hospital, and then for a riding-school, in which British horsemanship was displayed. The whole of the interior was destroyed, and rendered desolate. It was not till 1790 that the church was repaired, and again opened for divine worship.

Synagogue,
Norfolk street, near Houston.

This edifice is in the German Gothic style of architecture, and derives an interest, aside from the elegance of its exterior, from its being of a style of architecture entirely new in this city, but of which frequent and noble specimens are met with in the country from which it has received its denomination—many of the details of this erection being copied from the world-renowned Cathedral at Cologne.

It was designed and erected by Mr. A. Saeltzer for the congregation Anshi Chesed. It is of brick, stuccoed, having a front on Norfolk st. of 70 feet, and a depth of 95 feet, making it the largest Synagogue in the city.

The interior is 57 feet in height, from floor to ceiling, which latter is supported by elegant arches; the whole being richly and appropriately ornamented. There are galleries, (the entrances to which are through the towers,) which are devoted exclusively to the female portion of the congregation, who are in all Jewish congregations separated from the males.

University Place (Presbyterian) Church.

This church is situated on the southeast corner of University Place and Tenth street; is built of New Jersey stone from Little Falls. The edifice covers an area of eight thousand one hundred and ninety-two feet, divided into three distinct portions, viz., tower, church, and chapel.

The tower is situated at the west end of the nave, (or body of the church,) is twenty feet square, running up eighty-five feet, where it is surmounted by an octagonal spire, ornamented at the angles by crockets, and, of itself, eighty-six feet high, making the conjoined elevation one hundred and seventy-one feet, which is built entirely of stone.

The interior of the church is divided into a nave, and two aisles—the former of which is separated from the latter by pillars and arches, over which, in the inside, is a clerestory. At the west end of the church, in the tower, is the organ: at the other extremity, divided from the church by a rich screen, attached to which is the pulpit, is the chapel, which runs longitudinally across the church, affording ample room for services held during the week.

Across the aisles, and resting on the pillars of the nave, and on the side walls of the church, are galleries. The pews, pulpit, and other furniture of the church, are of black walnut. The windows are glazed with enamelled glass, having rich heads and borders. And covering all is an open roof, supported by an arched principal at each intercolumn, painted a dark color about the shade of black walnut. R. Upjohn, Architect.

St. Paul's Episcopal Chapel—Is situated in Broadway, between Fulton and Vesey streets, and the burying-ground extends west to Church street, and thus includes the whole block, 400 by 80 feet, surrounded by a handsome iron-railing. The body of the church is 90 by 70 feet, with a beautiful spire, 200 feet high, painted and overcast with sand to resemble brown freestone. The church was erected in 1765, and the steeple in 1794. It has a beautiful portico of four Roman Ionic fluted columns of brown stone, supporting a pediment with a niche in the centre, containing a statue of St. Paul, painted white.

The Scotch Presbyterian Church—Corner of Grand and Crosby streets, is a stone building, 95 feet long and 67 broad, with a fine Ionic portico of six stone columns, and cost $114,000.

The First Baptist Church—In Broome street, corner of Elizabeth street, is a fine stone edifice, of Gothic architecture, from 88 to 110 feet long, and from 75 to 87 feet wide, with two octagon towers on the front corners, and a pointed window between them, 22 feet wide and 41 feet high. The interior is more imposing than the exterior.

St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church—In Barclay street, corner of Church, is a large and substantial granite structure, with a very imposing Ionic portico of six granite columns, and a statue of St. Peter in a niche in the pediment.

The French Protestant Episcopal Church—Corner of Franklin and Church streets, is built of white marble, and has a portico with a double row of fine marble columns of the Ionic order.

The Reformed Dutch Church—On Washington Square, is a large and imposing structure of Gothic architecture, and appears well, even by the side of the splendid New-York University.

St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Cathedral—Is of stone, 120 feet long and 80 feet wide, but is more distinguished for its magnitude than for its elegance, though it is an imposing structure.

St. George's (Protestant Episcopal) Church.

This church is located on Rutherford Place, between E. Sixteenth and E. Seventeenth streets, fronting on Stuyvesant Square, (a new Square recently laid out;) a neighborhood, which, although not yet thickly built upon, must in a short time become one of the most fashionable quarters of the city—of which this edifice will form the principal ornament.

It has a front of 94 feet, and is 163 feet deep. The architecture is of the Byzantium order; its details are very massive: the whole edifice is a model of strength and durability. The spires not yet being added, it at present furnishes but little evidence of the grandeur of the original design.

The interior is very elegant.

St. George's Church is (with the exception of Trinity) the oldest Protestant Episcopal Congregation in the city; their old edifice in Beekman street, corner of Clifford, having been first erected in 1752. In 1811, it was separated from Trinity, and became a distinct parish. In 1814, the first edifice was destroyed by fire, but was promptly rebuilt, and still stands.

Odd Fellows' Hall.

This hall, designed for the accommodation of the Grand Lodge and Encampment, and many of the subordinate Lodges, is situated on the corner of Grand and Centre and Orange streets, being 78 feet 8 inches on Centre street, 70 feet 9 inches on Grand, and 105 feet on Orange street.

The building is of brown freestone, and, being much higher than any surrounding edifices, is a prominent feature of the central part of the city. Its entire cost was about $125,000. The Hall Association is a chartered Company, and the stock is held principally by the Lodges meeting therein.

The basement is occupied as a restaurant. The first story is divided into six spacious stores, and contains apartments for the keeper of the building.

On the second floor are the offices of Grand Secretary of the Order in this State, Grand Scribe of the Patriarchal Branch, Odd Fellows' Hall Association, the Post Office of the Order, the Banner Room, in which the splendid banners of the Lodges and Encampments occupying the hall are deposited; the library-room; and

The Antique Room, about 40 by 32, is fitted up in antique style, the painting being elaborate and highly finished.

On the third floor are the Corinthian Room,  $51\frac{1}{2}$  by  $33\frac{1}{2}$  feet, occupying the northwest corner of the hall, finished in the pure style of this favorite order of architecture. This is the largest Lodge-room.

The Egyptian Room, on the northeast corner, is the most elaborate and appropriate room in the Hall. The room is 47 by 37 feet. Twelve highly ornamented and massive columns support a heavy cornice, from which the ceiling springs obliquely, giving something the appearance of a dome. The ceiling is divided into panels, on each side of which is painted some appropriate device. Other panels, and indeed the entire walls, pillars, and ceiling of the room, are covered with hieroglyphical pictures, characteristic of the old Egyptian mysteries and mythology. The names of the Board of Managers of the Hall, and the date of its commencement and completion, are written in hieroglyphics in proper places on the wall: also the names of the Past Grand Sires of the Order.

The Elizabethan Room,  $39\frac{1}{2}$  by 32 feet—done in the massive and elaborate style of the age of Queen Bess—occupies the remainder of this floor. The painting of this room is a fine piece of workmanship.

Ascending to the fourth floor, we find the Gothic Room. This room is over the Egyptian, and of like dimensions, finished with eight full pendants in the ceiling, and twelve half pendants along the walls. These are painted of a lightish color, in panels, with appropriate armorial bearings inscribed thereon.

The Doric Room—the last of the regular Lodge rooms—a beautiful little room, over and corresponding in size with the Elizabethan. The pure, plain Doric is here shown; not a decoration, not a superfluous part, but so very plain, that the contrast is striking and pleasing, after a survey of the ornate and gaudy Antique and Elizabethan.

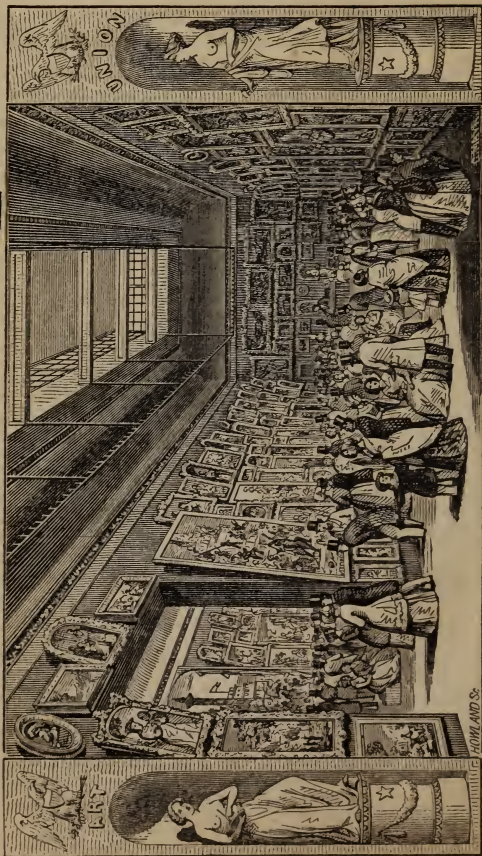

The Persian Room is intended for Encampments. The room is oval in form; the painting is light and graceful, and reminds the visitor of the beautiful palaces told of in the story of Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp.

The fifth and last floor is occupied by the Rotunda, for the meetings of the Grand Lodge of the State, and has a large room for committees. The Rotunda is circular, 73 feet in diameter; in the centre one large dome window, and windows on three sides: the roof supported by a circle of small iron columns.

The Deaf and Dumb Asylum—Is on Fiftieth street, near Avenue Fourth, or Harlem Railroad, and is 110 feet long and 60 feet wide, and will accommodate a large number of pupils, with the teachers and family of the principal. It is under a principal and eight professors. Persons who wish to visit it by the public conveyances should proceed to the junction of Chatham and Centre streets, opposite the City Hall. From this point the cars for Harlem leave frequently during the day, and pass directly by the Institution, where they stop to receive and land passengers.

The Institution for the Blind—Is on Avenue Ninth, near Thirty third street, and has about 70 pupils.

The New-York Hospital, at 319 Broadway, is a collection of extensive buildings, in a handsome situation, with a fine yard.

The American Art-Union,

FOR THE PROMOTION OF THE FINE ARTS IN THE UNITED STATES.

Incorporated by the Legislature of the State of New-York, 7th May, 1840.

At the first distribution in 1839, the number of paintings was 36. The next year an engraving was presented to each member, and only 14 Works of Art distributed at its close; at the end of the third year, but seven were distributed. The exhibitions of the institution containing works of great merit, and kept open to the public at great expense, were but poorly attended; and the Committee, discouraged by the ill-success of their endeavors, with but few exceptions, declined re-election. That few, however, did not despair of its ultimate success. Other gentlemen were added to the Committee, and they then determined to abandon the exhibition, reduce expenses, personally to solicit subscriptions, and by vigorous efforts to revive the institution, and, if possible, realize the original designs of the friends of American Art.

This is, in every sense, a National Institution. Under the efforts of its managers it has continued to increase in favor and usefulness. Its income from $5,000 has reached $80,000. The number of members, from 937 to 16,475. Its distribution, from seven Works of Art, costing about $2000, to 929, costing more than $60,000.

The institution has distributed about 2000 Works of Art, painted by 231 different artists, residing in fifty towns in sixteen States and Territories, from Maine to Louisiana; in Rome, Florence, Dusseldorf, Paris, and London.

Engravings, etchings, and outlines, to the number of more than 150,000 copies, have been distributed throughout the Union.

It has more than 500 agencies, embracing every State in the Union, and the neighboring nations; and now offers to citizens and strangers free access to its two large galleries, (of which a view is inserted on the opposite page,) filled with paintings. The early hopes for the success of the enterprise are more than realized, and its rapid increase has surpassed the expectation of those who never doubted that its mission was to be one of great good, and who have never withdrawn their services.

Each person who becomes a member of this truly National Institution, contributes thereby to sustain the cause of Art in our country, at the same time that he receives in return the full value of his subscription in works calculated to elevate and refine the minds of their possessors.

The splendid galleries are located at No. 497, Broadway, a few doors above Broome street, in this city.

Every subscriber of $5 is a member for the year. The money thus obtained is applied, first, to the production of a large original engraving of an American painting, a set of outlines, &c.; second, to the purchase of paintings and sculpture, striking of medals, casting of bronzed statuettes, &c. These works are distributed each year at the annual meeting in December, each member having one share for every $5 paid. Members also receive the volume of that year's "Transactions," and the monthly "Bulletin of Art:" these works are illustrated. Persons can become members by applying to any of the Honorary Secretaries at their respective places, or to Andrew Warner, Esq., Corresponding Secretary, New-York.

National Academy of Design,

Now building 661 Broadway, opposite Bond street. Founded by the professional Artists, A. D. 1826; incorporated by Act of the Legislature, April 5th, 1828.

Its objects, the cultivation and advancement of a taste for the arts of Design, by an annual display of the works of living Artists; the promotion of the interests of the professional artist, by thus exhibiting his works to the public, and by the establishment of a legitimate School of Design, to the support of which, and to the increase of its library, now composing many rare and valuable works on Art, the receipts annually arising from this exhibition are appropriated.

Its collection of models from the antique is abundant, and the most complete on the Continent; and has afforded the means of academic study to from thirty to fifty students annually, from the commencement of its institution to the present time: this, together with its Life School, warmed, lighted with gas, and provided with every convenience, are open to students, free of charge, during the winter season.

The Academy is, by its laws, exclusively managed by professional artists; and its seven officers chosen annually in May.

PRESENT BOARD OF OFFICERS.—THE COUNCIL.—A. B. Durand, President; C. C. Ingham, Vice-President; F. R. Spencer, Recording Secretary; J. H. Shegogue, Corresponding Secretary; T. S. Cummings, Treasurer; Wm. S. Mount and Wm. Page, Members.

Committee of Arrangement for the Twenty-fifth Annual Exhibition, in connection with the Council:—Daniel Huntington and Edward Mooney, of the Academicians; T. H. Richards and J. T. Peale, of the Associates.

The Academy will remove on the 1st of May, 1850, to their new buildings, Broadway, opposite Bond street, where, in rooms nearly level with the street, decorated with the rich productions of our accomplished artists, they will offer their Spring Exhibition to the public.

We give on the opposite page a view of the staircase, leading to the exhibition-rooms, reduced from the original design, which (when finished) will be an exquisite piece of workmanship, both in construction and decoration.

Besides those already described, the city boasts of numerous other very elegant public edifices, of which our space precludes a particular description. Among these, are—

The University, University Place, corner of Washington Place.
The Columbia College, Foot of Park Place.

The Lunatic Asylum, 117th street, near Tenth Avenue.

The Nursery Buildings, at Randall's Island.

The Penitentiary, and buildings connected therewith, at Blackwell's Island; and

The Croton Water Works.—The Aqueduct commences at the Croton River, five miles from the Hudson River, in Westchester County. The dam is 250 feet long, 70 feet wide at bottom, 7 at top, and 40 feet high, and built of stone and cement. It creates a pond five miles long, covering an extent of 400 acres, and contains 500,000,000 gallons of water. From the dam the Aqueduct proceeds, sometimes tunnelling through solid rocks, crossing valleys by embankments and brooks by culverts, until it reaches Harlem River—a distance of thirty-three miles. It is built of stone, brick and cement, arched over and under, 6 feet 9 inches wide at bottom, 7 feet 8 inches at top of the side walls, and 8 feet 5 inches high; it has a descent of  $13\frac{1}{4}$  inches per mile, and will discharge 60,000,000 of gallons every twenty-four hours. It crosses the Harlem River on a magnificent bridge of stone, 1,450 feet in length, with 14 piers, 8 of them bearing arches of 80 feet span, and 7 others of 50 feet span, 114 feet above tide-water at the top. The receiving reservoir at 86th street, 38 miles from the Croton dam, covers 35 acres, and holds 150,000,000 of gallons. The distributing reservoir, on Murray's Hill, in 40th street, covers 4 acres, and is constructed of stone and cement, 45 feet high above the street, and holds 20,000,000 of gallons. Thence the water is distributed over the city in iron-pipes, laid sufficiently deep under ground to protect them from frost.

The New State Arsenal,

Is an imposing edifice, 200 feet front by 50 feet deep, exclusive of the towers,—being the largest building of the kind in the State, located on the Fifth Avenue, between 62d and 64th streets, four miles from the City Hall; but brought within the view of the reader by the cut on the opposite page: or, if this is not satisfactory, the cars of the Harlem Railroad, or Sixty-first street stages, will convey him to the spot at almost any hour.

It is constructed of brick, with the exception of the first story, which is of brown stone, and has at each of its angles an octagonal tower, 69 feet high, besides four others—two in front, and two in the rear of the building; each 82 feet in height.

A sub-cellar, under the north wing of the building, is to be occupied by the old Revolutionary pieces. The basement, which is 10 feet high, and is one large hall, extending the whole length and breadth of the building, is for heavy cannon and balls. The principal story, 12 feet 6 inches in height, will be tenanted by the small arms. The second story, 9 feet 6 inches in height, by munitions; and the upper story, 16 feet high, by gun-carriages, &c., &c.

The bearing-beams are supported by Gothic cast-iron columns; the floors throughout the building are of Georgia pine, with the exception of the basement: the roof is iron, above which is a liberty-pole, 68 feet in height.

The work was commenced on the 13th July, and completed on the 15th November, 1848, at a cost of $30,000.

BUILDING COMMITTEE.—Millard Fillmore, Comptroller; Christopher Morgan, Secretary of State; Alvah Hunt, State Treasurer; Ambrose L. Jordan, Attorney-General; Charles B. Stewart, Chief Engineer and Surveyor; Samuel Strong, Superintendent; John Young, Governor; John Stewart, Commissary General.

In the rear of the main building is a small magazine.

The old arsenal, which yet contains most of the arms and munitions of the State stored in this city, is on Centre street, between Franklin and White. Its contents at the time of the last Report of the Commissary General, (31st December, 1848,) consisted in part of 96 pieces of field artillery, among which were 5 cannon surrendered to the Americans by the capitulation of St. John's, November 25th, 1775; 6 surrendered by the Convention of Saratoga, October 17th, 1777; 6 captured at Princeton, January 3d, 1777; and two brass three pounders, taken from General Burgoyne; 7848 serviceable muskets, 888 rifles, and 800 carbines.

This spot was occupied for a magazine, as early as 1675, during which year a public slaughter-house was erected here, a loft over which was used as a powder-house. In 1728, the island was appropriated "as the most convenient place for building thereon a magazine, or powder-house." The present building was erected in 1808.

Theatres and Amusements.

The Broadway Theatre, under the management of E. A. Marshall, is the finest theatre in the city, and generally has the highest class of entertainments, presenting a succession of the principal stars who emigrate to this country from Europe. It is a very prosperous institution.

Burton's Theatre, in Chambers street, a few doors east of Broadway, is a popular resort for all who are fond of fun and burlesque. It is usually crowded.

The Olympic, in Broadway, between Howard and Grand streets, is an establishment very similar in its character to Burton's.

Niblo's is too well known all over the Union to require particular notice. It is now handsomely rebuilt, and is more popular than ever.

The Bowery is the great central attraction, not only of the important Avenue whose name it bears, but of the whole region round about. The performances here are of the most energetic character, and generally it is a very interesting place to visit.

The National.—This is situated at the foot of Chatham Square, and is a flourishing melo-dramatic theatre.

The American Museum, on the corner of Broadway and Ann street—Christy's Minstrels, &c., &c., are all much frequented.

Italian Opera House.—This elegant and aristocratic establishment is located in Astor Place, just east of Broadway.

Cemeteries.

The rural Cemeteries in the neighborhood of New-York, particularly Greenwood, and the Trinity Church Cemetery, are well worth a visit—being handsomely laid out into walks, and adorned with many monuments of great beauty. The former is situated in Brooklyn, about two miles and a half from the South ferry, and commands beautiful views of the bay and harbor, with its islands and forts, the cities of New-York and Brooklyn, the shores of the North and East rivers, New Jersey, Staten Island, the Quarantine, and numerous towns and villages in every direction; together with that part of the Atlantic Ocean extending from Sandy Hook to the Rockaway Pavilion. Tickets of admission may be obtained at the Office, No. 64, Broadway.

Trinity Cemetery is situated on the high grounds near Manhattanville, extending from 153d to 155th street, and from the Tenth Avenue to the river.

The grounds, giving a view of the Hudson River, Highlands, and Jersey shore, Harlem, the Sound, and shores of Long Island, are tastefully laid out in avenues and walks, well covered with a great variety of ornamental trees, evergreens, and shrubbery.

Besides these, are the Cypress Hills Cemetery, situated also on Long Island, about five miles from the Brooklyn ferry; the New-York Bay Cemetery, on the shores of the Bay, in New Jersey; the Oak Hill Cemetery, at Nyack, and the Rockland Cemetery, near Piermont,—which, although but recently established, and partially laid out, all possess excellent locations, and afford fine views of the adjacent country.

After calling the attention of the reader to the advertising pages in the front and back of this book, (which may occasionally be perused to his profit,) the names appended to which advertisements will be readily recognized by those who are familiar with the business of our city, as those of individuals and firms who have for many years sustained an enviable reputation in their respective lines of business; and whose establishments are none the less "celebrated" by reason of not being particularly mentioned here;—we proceed to give both pictorial and letter-press details of a few of the more attractive among the many

CELEBRATED ESTABLISHMENTS.

D. &amp; J. Devlin's Clothing Warehouse.

There is no establishment in our city attracting more attention at present than this great Clothing House. We cannot notice it better than by giving an extract from an article in Hunt's Merchants' Magazine, for January, on the Clothing Trade:—

“The number of hands employed, or families supported in the manufacture of clothing in New-York, we have no reliable data to show; but we will merely take a glance at one of the largest and most enterprising clothing establishments in our city, namely, the house of D. & J. DEVLIN, in John-street, as proof in part of the truth of our position.

“The Messrs. Devlin do both a very large wholesale, and a very extensive and fashionable retail, trade. Their establishment, at the corner of John and Nassau streets, occupies two houses; one entire floor is devoted to the city and retail business; another to the cloth and custom department; another to the wholesale department; another, containing several well lighted rooms, to the cutting department; and the large basement is stored with their immense stock of heavy woollens and trimmings. The economy of such an establishment requires great attention to detail, and the admirable management of the enterprising proprietors is a model in its way. Their cutters are classified into four departments: one department exclusively for coats; a second for pants; a third for vests; and a fourth for trimmings; with a foreman, whose duty it is to supply the cutters with work, to employ hands, and to give out and receive the garments from them. The hands are also classed (according to their skill, capacity, and promptness) into grades—they earn from $3 up to $15 per week; and some piece-masters, who have many hands under them, draw from $25 to $150 per week. The number of hands employed in working for this establishment, including those employed by the piece-masters, rarely falls short of 2,000, many of these supporting large families. They are scarcely ever out of work, for the wholesale and retail trade so dovetail into each other, that before the country trade is over the city trade commences, and vice versa. Their corps of salesmen, clerks, &c., are well appointed and complete. This will give some idea of the importance of this manufacture in New-York; and when we add to it the fact, that the Messrs. Devlin, like many other establishments in the city, supply the retail merchants in the most widely separated States, North, South, and West, with stocks of clothing, especially suited to their various localities, and this to an unlimited extent, we hazard little in saying that the clothing trade is fast increasing in importance, not only to the manufacturing interests, but to the commerce of our country.”

LOCKE'S PATENT PORTABLE CHAMBER, VAPOR, DOUCHE, AND SHOWER BATHS, MANUFACTURED AND SOLD, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL, BY JOHN LOCKE, 47 ANN STREET, NEW-YORK.—This Bath is acknowledged, by all who have used it, to be superior to any thing ever manufactured for the purpose. It has received the following premiums: In 1847, at the Fair of the American Institute, N. Y., a Diploma; at the Rensselaer County Fair, Troy, N. Y., a Diploma; in 1848, at the State Fair in Saratoga, N. Y., a Silver Medal; at the Fair of the American Institute, N. Y., 1848, a Silver Medal; and at the late Fair of the Institute, 1849, a Diploma; in competition with many others, and is highly recommended by the most scientific men.

It may be converted into a simple or medicated Vapor Bath, by attaching a small apparatus with a spirit lamp, which is sold with the Bath if required.

Prices range from $8 to $18. Steam Generator, with its appurtenances, $5. Persons at a distance desiring further information relative to size, style of finish, and prices, can, by addressing the subscriber, be furnished with a circular containing particulars.

RECOMMENDATIONS.—From W. A. Hamilton, M. D., Dr. of the Troy Hydropathic Inst.—"Families who have not room, or are not able to fit up a bathing apparatus, can buy one of Locke's Shower Baths, which contains all the essentials of a more expensive bathing room. This is one of the best baths, and should be in every family."

From Dr. Shew's Water Cure Journal.—"This Bath has many advantages not found in any other. 1. The water is elevated by means of a crank and pulley, requiring but slight effort, and which is not liable to get out of order. 2. The bath may be used either in the form of shower or douche; and a liberal supply of water is given at a time; and by placing a cork in the bottom of the apparatus, it is conveniently used as a hip bath, or bathing tub."

Remarks by O. S. Fowler, Ed. Am. Phrenological Journal.—"Shower bathing is one of the best forms, because its sudden shock causes that reaction and healthful glow so absolutely indispensable. This is facilitated by bathing immediately on rising, because the warm and moist state of the body every way promotes this reaction. To females, this chamber bath is doubly advantageous, being easily charged even by a child. Locke's Patent Shower, Douche, and Vapor Bath should be extensively used. I decidedly prefer it to all others. In the water cure, it will be found incomparably superior to all others."

Extract from 2d Edition of Dr. Powell's Book on the Eye.—"I decidedly prefer Locke's Patent Combination Bath to all others. It combines economy, durability, simplicity, and portability. Mr. Locke has further added to its usefulness by connecting to the reservoir a fine tube, which answers an excellent purpose as an eye fountain."

From F. Hunt, Esq., Editor of Hunt's Merchant's Mag.—"I consider your Bath superior in every particular to those with weights. Its convenience and its facility of application render it a necessary article of furniture in every house."

LOCKE'S IMPROVED MEAT SAFES, also LOCKE'S REFRIGERATORS, manufactured by John Locke and Co., 47 Ann street. These IMPROVED MEAT SAFES are offered by the manufacturer at as low prices as any other establishment in the city. They are a very desirable article for the purposes intended. He also manufactures the very best Refrigerators got up in the city; being dove-tailed and properly put together in the best possible manner, he flatters himself that they will give every satisfaction to the purchaser. They may be had at the Patent Bath Depot, 47 Ann street. Orders from the country promptly attended to.

THE WHOLESALE CLOTHING ESTABLISHMENT OF MESSRS. LEWIS AND HANFORD, NOS. 252, 254, 256, AND 258 PEARL STREET.—Of the great number of houses engaged in the Clothing Trade which have become established in public favor, few in our city present greater claims to our notice than the one of which we now speak. This house was first established in Boston in 1824, but has for fourteen years past been located in this city; and whether considered in regard to the experience of the members of the firm in their particular line, the care exercised in the purchase of goods, or the excellent workmanship of the various articles offered for sale, this establishment occupies an enviable position among the many similar establishments in our city.

It may be interesting for the visitor to the city to know, while at the same time it gives a fair insight into the magnitude of their business, that Messrs. Lewis and Hanford employ in the prosecution of their business, 75 persons upon the premises, and upwards of 4,000 others in the making up of work; that it cut from the 1st of November, 1848, to the 14th of July, 1849, 249,510 garments, being an average of 1135 per day; and that it occupies four entire stores, comprising 17 spacious rooms for their manufacture and sale! Occupying for the varied operations of their business these extensive apartments, and employing only the most skilful operatives, this firm has established a reputation for business capabilities at once extensively known and highly creditable. The perfect organization of their vast operations, the fairness of their terms, and the fidelity by which their dealings are characterized, speak loudly in their praise, and are the true secrets of their great success.

The Bowery Savings Store,
126 Bowery, N. Y.

This extensive establishment, for the sale of DRY GOODS, at whole-sale or retail, is one of the most popular in the United States. The plan upon which business is carried on at this institution is entirely novel, and by an up-town concern heretofore unattempted. 1st. All the Foreign Goods in the store are imported by the concern, or bought from the large auctions. 2d. All the Domestic Goods are received from the factories direct, under an arrangement between the proprietors and the manufacturers, and goods are thereby obtained at the lowest possible prices; and the advantages, and all the saving which under the ordinary mode of doing business is paid to the importer, jobber, or agent, is reserved for and allowed to the consumer and purchaser.

Dealers supplied for Cash from a magnificent stock, at less prices by far than are generally afforded by jobbers.

At the Establishment of the Messrs. BERRIANS, of which we give the view above, may be found, we believe, the largest, most varied, and complete assortment of HOUSE FURNISHING ARTICLES to be found in America.

To those of our readers who have not yet visited this extensive establishment, we would say that they will here find, under one roof, a great variety of beautiful Fancy Articles, together with all of those domestic conveniences which aid and facilitate the daily operations of the housekeeper, rendering her duties more agreeable and far less laborious than they were in the days of our ancestors.

The BERRIANS do a large and rapidly increasing wholesale business, which enables them (by importing large quantities) to sell their foreign fancy and staple articles at lower prices than they are usually sold for. To enumerate the various articles embraced in their assortment would fill, we presume, a book the size of this. We would therefore simply say, that should any of our readers need anything in the way of Cutlery, Silver-plated Ware, Japannery, German Silver, Albata, or Britannia Wares, Cooking Utensils, Bronze, Copper, or Brass Goods, Bathing Apparatus, Tin, Wood, or Willow Wares, Brushes, Mats, Baskets, Refrigerators, Meat-safes, &c., they will find it to their interest to purchase at the Ware Rooms of the

AN ACT TO AMEND THE CHARTER OF THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

Passed April 2d, 1849.

SECTION 1. The legislative power of the Corporation of the City of New-York shall continue to be vested in a Board of Aldermen and a Board of Assistant Aldermen, who, together, shall form the Common Council of the City. The Board of Aldermen shall consist of one Alderman from each Ward, who shall be elected by the people of the respective Wards for two years. The Board of Assistant Aldermen shall consist of one Assistant Alderman from each Ward, who shall be elected in like manner, and shall hold their office for one year.

SEC. 2. The election for Charter Offices shall be held on the day of the general State election, when all Charter officers eligible by the people shall be chosen, and the officers who shall be elected shall be sworn into office on the first Monday of January thereafter; and the laws of the State regulating elections shall apply to elections of Charter Officers; but the Common Council may, by law, extend the time for the canvass of the votes. The Mayor shall hold his office for a period of two years.

SEC. 3. The Common Council, during the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty, may hold its sessions as often as each Board shall by resolution appoint, and thereafter the Common Council shall annually hold only three stated sessions of not exceeding one month each, commencing on the first Monday of January, May, and September. The Mayor may convene the Common Council, or the Board of Aldermen only, at any time between the sessions, if, in his judgment, any exigency shall have arisen to render such a proceeding necessary, on the request, in writing, of a majority of the members elected to each Board, specifying the purposes for which such meeting is called; in which case the action of the Common Council shall be confined to the matters in reference to which it shall have been so convened, or to such other matters as may be submitted by the Mayor for its consideration during such session; and the respective Boards may adjourn from day to day until such business shall be completed.

SEC. 4. The Boards shall sit in separate chambers, and the doors shall be kept open, except when the public welfare shall require secrecy. A majority of each shall be a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members. Each Board shall appoint a President from its own body; shall choose its clerk and other officers; determine the rules of its own proceedings; be the judge of the election returns and the qualifications of its own members; keep a journal of its proceedings, and have power to direct special elections to fill its own vacancies; to compel the attendance of members; to punish them for disorderly conduct, and expel a member by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected, after five days' notice, and opportunity of being heard has been given to him; but such resolution of expulsion shall be of no effect unless it contain a provision for a special election within two weeks thereafter to supply such vacancy; provided, however, that such special election shall not be ordered unless there be at least two months of the term of the expelled member unexpired. The Clerk of the Board of Aldermen shall, by virtue of his office, be Clerk of the Common Council, and shall perform all the duties heretofore performed by the Clerk of the Common Council, except such as shall be assigned to the Clerk of the Board of Assistant Aldermen; and it shall be his duty to keep open for inspection at all reasonable times the records and minutes of the proceedings of the Common Council, except such as shall be specially ordered otherwise. The two Boards shall have concurrent powers, and a negative on each other's proceedings, and shall in all cases act as separate bodies, and shall not appoint Joint Committees, except a Committee on Accounts. Each Board may originate, amend, concur in, or reject any law, or ordinance, or resolution; but no law shall pass either Board except by a majority of the members elected. Neither Board shall adjourn for a longer period than three days, except by a resolution to be concurred in by the other body.

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of the Clerks of the respective Boards to publish all ordinances and amendments of ordinances which shall be passed, and also the proceedings in the newspapers employed by the Corporation, except such parts as may require secrecy; and whenever a vote shall be taken in either Board, upon the passage of a resolution or ordinance which shall contemplate any specific improvement, or involve the sale, disposition, or appropriation of public property, or the expenditure of public moneys or incomes therefrom, or lay any tax or assessment, such resolution or ordinance shall, before the same shall be sent to the other Board, and immediately after the adjournment of the Board at which the same shall have been passed, be published with the ayes and noes, with the names of the persons voting for and against the same, in at least two newspapers, as a part of the proceedings; and no act, resolution, or ordinance, which shall have passed one Board, shall be acted upon by the other Board on the same day, unless by unanimous consent, except in case of invasion, insurrection, or pestilence.

SEC. 6. If any ordinance or resolution passed by each Board, as provided by sections twelve and thirteen of the Amended Charter, of one thousand eight hundred and thirty, shall not be returned by the Mayor within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall become a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the close of the session of the Common Council shall prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law until the expiration of five days after the commencement of the next session of the Common Council, by whom the ordinance or resolution shall be reconsidered, if returned within such time, and be disposed of in the same manner and with like effect as if presented at the preceding session.

SEC. 7. No money shall be drawn from the City Treasury, except the same shall have been previously appropriated to the purpose for which it is drawn; and all appropriations shall be based upon specific and detailed statements in writing of the several heads of the departments, through the Comptroller.

SEC. 8. The Board of Assistant Aldermen shall have the sole power of impeachment of all City officers not otherwise provided for, and pending such impeachment, and until the final disposition thereof, the party impeached shall not exercise any of the functions of his office. The Board of Aldermen shall have the sole power to try all impeachments; when sitting for that purpose they shall be on oath or affirmation, truly and impartially to try the impeachment according to evidence, and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected to said Board. Judgment in case of impeachment shall not extend farther than removal from office and disqualification to hold any office under the City Charter; but the party convicted shall be liable to indictment, trial, judgment, and punishment, according to law.

SEC. 9. The executive power of the Corporation shall be vested in the Mayor, the heads of Departments, and such other executive officers as shall be from time to time created by law, and neither the Common Council nor any Committee or member thereof, shall perform any executive business whatever, except such as is or shall be especially imposed on them by the laws of the State, and except that the Board of Aldermen may approve or reject the nominations made to them, as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 28. All such parts of the Charter of the City of New-York, and the several acts of the Legislature amending the same, or in any manner affecting the same, as are inconsistent with this act, are hereby repealed; but so much and such parts thereof as are not inconsistent with the provisions of this law, shall not be construed as repealed, altered, or modified, or in any form affected thereby, but shall continue and remain in full force and virtue.

SEC. 29. This act shall be submitted for the approval of the electors of the City and County of New York, at an election to be held in said City, on the second Tuesday of April, one thousand eight hundred and forty-nine, for which the Common Council of the City shall make the necessary arrangements. The tickets which shall be polled at the said election shall contain either the words "in favor of amendments to Charter," or "against amendments to Charter," and if a majority of all the persons voting thereon at the said election shall vote the ticket "in favor of amendments to Charter," this act shall become a law; if a majority of such persons shall vote "against amendments to Charter," this act shall be void.

GREEN-WOOD CEMETERY,

OFFICE—No. 64 BROADWAY.

The Grounds of this Institution now comprise 250 acres. They are more extensive than those of any similar Institution in this country or Europe, and are entirely free from incumbrance.

These Grounds are situated in Brooklyn, on Gowanus Heights, about two and a half miles from the South Ferry. They are beautifully undulating and diversified, presenting continual changes of surface and scenery, and are remarkably adapted to the purpose for which they are appropriated. The elevated portions of the Cemetery afford numerous and interesting views, extending in every direction.

The Charter of this Institution was obtained in 1838, but the grounds were not publicly opened for interments until four years later. Since then the improvements made have been numerous and important. The natural undulations of the surface have been greatly beautified by gently curving avenues and paths, and almost at every step monuments and tombs arrest the attention of the visitor.

Upwards of 3,500 lots have been sold, a great proportion of which are variously improved with inclosures and monumental structures, comparing favorably, it is believed, with similar improvements in any of the other Cemeteries in this country. The number of interments now exceed 8,400, and are greatly on the increase.

The Charter embraces every desirable provision for the protection, permanence, and proper government of the Institution. It exempts the Grounds for ever from assessment and public taxes, and also from all liability to be sold on execution, or for the payment of debts by assignment under any insolvent law. It requires that all the proceeds of sales of Lots shall be applied to the payment of the ground purchased, and to the preservation, improvement, and embellishment of the Cemetery, and to the incidental expenses thereof, and to no other purpose whatever. This provision effectually excludes all speculative gain, and prevents any other interest conflicting with that of Lot owners. Lot owners are sole proprietors of the Cemetery, and through the medium of Trustees whom they choose, they control entirely the Institution.

The price of Lots is $90 each, where four or more are taken together, and $110 for a single Lot; half lots, $55; one-third Lots, $36 66 cts. These prices include the cost of grading. The size, including the margin allowed for purposes of inclosure, is 14 by 27 feet, or 378 superficial feet. Deeds are given in fee simple for all Lots sold, and they are taken care of free of expense.

Receiving Tombs are provided in various parts of the City and at the Cemetery, in which interments may be made until Lots can be selected and improved. No charge is made, except $1 for each time of opening the Tomb.

PRICES OF GRAVES.

Adult graves in public lots inclosed by a hedge, including all charges	$10 00 each.
Children's graves in ditto, under ten years	5 00 "
Adult graves in lots inclosed by an iron railing , including all charges	15 00 "
Children's graves in ditto under ten years	7 50 "

Another lot (inclosed by a hedge) has been provided, with sufficient room for MONUMENTS, in which two or more graves (but not less than two) may be had at $12 50 each, including all charges.

Graves purchased in any of the public Lots may be used for other interments (provided no coffin be less than four feet under the surface), by paying the usual cost of opening graves, viz., $3 for adults, and $2 for children.

Tickets admitting a family, on foot, at all proper times, are given to those who purchase graves.

PUBLIC VAULTS.

Permanent interments, adults	$15 00 each.
Children, under ten years	7 50 "
" under two years	5 00 "
Temporary interments, when removed from the grounds.
Adults	10 00 "
Children	5 00 "

Tickets of admission, which are required for ALL visitors (excepting lot owners). may be procured, without charge, at the office of the Cemetery, 64 Broadway.

Trinity Church Cemetery.

This Cemetery is situated on the high grounds near Manhattanville, on the island of New York, extending from 153d street to 155th street, and from the Tenth Avenue to Hudson River. The grounds are high, giving a commanding view of the Hudson River, Highlands, and Jersey shore, the village of Harlem, the Sound, and Long Island shore. The grounds are beautifully laid out in avenues and walks, and well covered with a great variety of wood, ornamental trees, evergreens, and shrubbery. The soil is of the most suitable kind for burial purposes.

This Cemetery is fenced in the most secure and permanent manner. A keeper's lodge is on the grounds, and a keeper in constant attendance to show the grounds, and to give such information as may be required in relation to the Cemetery.

The whole of the Burial and Vault Plots are fronted on avenues. The price of the regular sized lots, 15 feet square, is $60 in the easterly division, and $65 in the westerly division; smaller and larger sized lots can be had at a proportionate price. A portion of the grounds have been laid out for single interments. The price for an interment is as follows: For persons fourteen years of age and upwards, in graves, $5; in church vaults, $7; for persons under fourteen and over five years of age, in graves, $3; in vaults, $4; for those under five years, in graves, $2; in vaults, $2 50. The keeper's charge for opening graves for persons of fourteen years and upwards, is $2; under fourteen and over five, $1 50; under five years, $1; the price for opening and closing vaults, in all cases, is $1.

When interments are to be made in this Cemetery, the use of the Chapel at the Clarkson street Burial Ground to perform the service in, will be granted if desired, and the use of the Receiving Tomb, at that place or at the Cemetery, will also be granted without charge, excepting $1 to the sexton for opening.

The avenues and roads leading to the Cemetery are good at all seasons of the year. A steamboat runs throughout the year to convey funerals, at one shilling each passenger; also the Manhattanville line of stages leave the Hall of Records every forty minutes for the Cemetery; passage eighteen pence. The Harlem cars also convey passengers to the Cemetery. Further information may be had at the vestry office, corner of Fulton and Church streets, where the printed rules and regulations, together with a map or plan of the Cemetery, can be had gratis.

For interments apply to the above office, from nine o'clock, A. M. to three, P. M.; or to David Lyon, Sexton of Trinity Church, 44 Greenwich street; James S. Martin, Sexton of St. Paul's Chapel, 35 Murray street; or to Wm. Maslin, Sexton of St. John's Chapel, 17 Clarkson street.

Persons can employ Sextons of other Churches, or such undertakers as they may wish.

Persons wishing to purchase Burial Plots, can apply for that purpose either at the Vestry-office, or to Henry Youngs, 103 Clinton Place; to Henry Cotheal, No. 393 Fourth street; or to Alexander L. McDonald, No. 52 John street, where a map of the Cemetery Grounds, and the regulations of the Cemetery Grounds may be seen.

N. B. No tax or charge whatever is made to the owners of private burial plots or vaults, for keeping the grounds in order or ornamenting the same.

The principal entrance, Chapel, Observatory, Superintendent's house, &c., of the NEW YORK BAY CEMETERY, situated upon the west bank of the Bay, opposite the Battery, commanding one of the most picturesque and interesting views in the world. From the Observatory every vessel on the Bay and River, from the Palisades to the ocean, and the diversified landscape encircling the cities of New York, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Newark, and Elizabethtown, the Narrows and shores of Long Island and Staten Island, are so near that every prominent object may be distinctly seen and pointed out. The embellishments of the grounds and the various insignia of the 300 Beneficiary Societies that have selected their burial places here, numbering over 60,000 members, must render this the most interesting and celebrated Cemetery in the world, as no vessel can enter or leave the harbor without observing the tall spire of the Chapel, the imposing tower of the Observatory, and the grand arch of the main entrance looking down the gentle slope of the fore grounds of the Cemetery to the water. A few minutes' sail by the ferry, through the fleet of vessels spread over our noble bay, takes our citizens from the noise, bustle and deleterious atmosphere of the city to this retired, quiet and healthy resort.

The Company are now selling their lots at the low price of $15, payable monthly.

WILSON'S

STREET AND AVENUE DIRECTORY

OF THE

CITY OF NEW-YORK.

(Corrected October 20, 1849.)

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1849, by H. WILSON, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the United States
for the Southern District of New-York.

Explanation.

If you wish to find the location of any dwelling-house or store,—for instance, No 80 Allen street,—on consulting the Street Directory, you will observe that 68 Allen is on the right-hand of that street and on the corner of Grand, and 88 Allen is on the right-hand corner of Broome: hence the desired number, 80 Allen, will be on the right-hand side of Allen-street, between Grand and Broome.

Or suppose that you are going up Broadway and wish to take a cross street, so as to call at 128 Bowery: on examination (see Bowery) of the corner numbers in the Bowery, you will observe that 127 Bowery is on the corner of the Bowery and Grand;—hence, by passing from Broadway through Grand-street to the Bowery, you are opposite to the desired number, 128.

NOTE.—The streets above Twelfth-street are divided by Fifth Avenue into East and West,—as East Thirteenth, West Thirteenth,—and the streets located as above described will be found, therefore, in this work under East and West.

CURE OF CHRONIC DISEASES,

BY THE LATE HENRY HALL SHERWOOD, M. D.

NOTICE.—DR. H. H. SHERWOOD having deceased on the 18th of September last, his medical business and practice is continued, as usual, at his late residence, in accordance with his testamentary instructions, by WILLIAM LARNED, who has engaged the professional aid of A. S. BALL, M.D. in directing the medical practice of the establishment, which will be continued under the name of H. H. SHERWOOD'S SUCCESSORS. We also continue the publication of the valuable medical works of Dr. SHERWOOD, and the preparation of his well known MAGNETIZED REMEDIES, or COMPOUND CHLORIDE OF GOLD, for the cure of Tuberculous or Scrofulous Diseases. These remedies have now been many years in extensive use, and are a Specific for those Chronic Diseases of the organs and limbs which are invariably distinguished by pain produced by pressure on the intervertebral spaces along each side of the spinal column.

The Treatise of Dr. SHERWOOD upon Chronic Diseases explains fully the nature and effects of these remedies, and will be sent by us without charge to any person desirous of information.

DR. SHERWOOD'S MAGNETIC MACHINES, which have long had an established reputation as superior to any others in medical use, for power and simplicity combined, are also manufactured by us, as hitherto, and can be sent by express or otherwise to any place in the United States, or to other parts of the world.

All orders and letters for medical advice, should be addressed to
H. H. SHERWOOD'S SUCCESSORS,

SYSTEMATIC PHYSICAL TRAINING.

Many persons in this community are actually dying for the want of proper exercise. Many with narrow and contracted chests, that might be made broad and full; round shoulders, that could, with a very little training, be made square; stooping, when they might be straight; and, worse than all these, their lungs weak and affected by the slightest changes in the weather, when they might be made strong, so as to bid defiance to the changes of weather or climate. All these beneficial results can be produced by the system of physical training which is pursued at this Institution.

It has been very properly observed, that if only some of the many advantages resulting from exercise could be procured from any one medicine, nothing in the world would be in more esteem, and so anxiously sought after, as this medicine.

In large and crowded cities, there is generally but little opportunity of invigorating the body by due exercise of the limbs and muscles, but such an opportunity this Institution affords to the citizens of New-York. It is, beyond all comparison, the best and largest Institution for PHYSICAL TRAINING in the United States, if not in the world. The
